APPLICATION-READY INFRASTRUCTURE

Simplifying Application Rollout for Software Providers

APPLICATION READY INFRASTRUCTURE

ACCELERATING SOFTWARE DEPLOYMENT

Efficient application deployment is critical to the on-going success of any enterprise-level software provider.

In many cases, infrastructure design and deployment represent a significant barrier to the effective completion of key software rollout projects, whether datacentre-based or delivered through a managed "cloud" service.

As a leading UK provider of application-ready IT infrastructure, Q Associates has developed a range of valuable services, designed to improve efficiency and reduce costs when delivering software projects.

In addition to datacentre infrastructure provision, Q Associates also works widely with software organisations and service providers to enable secure cloud-based delivery of application services.

Through partnership with Q Associates, specialist software providers are able to improve business execution from application development through to delivery and support.

This provides tangible benefits through :

- Reduced Cost of Software Development & Testing
- Improved Sales Efficiency through Intelligent System Sizing
- Accelerated Project Deployment & Signoff
- Effective Delivery of Cloud-based Applications

Q Associates works extensively with software specialists and service providers across all major market sectors to simplify application delivery and accelerate project billing.
